P.S. May 23rd 1845 the mail having failed till to day I could not start they be pleased to forward me an answer as soon as they arrive as I shall wait, & not leave for Washington till I hear from you. Some think that there will be no necessity for Congress to meet, & if so they will finally meet at Austin, please give me the information.

Truly J. Mason