for and I wish you to give it your im= =mediate and earnest attention and procure it and forward it to me by Mail or some other safe conveyance but if the Auditor declines still to deliver it to you — to ascertain what other course must be pursued to decide the matter that I may take measures accordingly

It would seem that the only doubt in controversy between the two parties claiming the same is the jurisdiction of of the probate Court — but I claim it from precedence having taken out letters shortly after his death in this place where he had resided one or two years almost immediately previous and was enjoying ~~all~~ until his death all the rights & privileges of a citizen of this place — he left this place for the avowed purpose of regaining his health and seek a location for his headright which he had insti =tuted a suit in the District Court for this County and was then pending — which I afterwards commenced de novo and obtained the same — and it should be considered in Law that if the Letters were granted here first — said act in the premises should be binding in Law as the Jurisdiction in the matter should have been first determined before obtaining the same

I wish you to write to me as soon as convenient

Respectfully

A. W. Benedict
