G. H. Nelson
vs.
The State of Texas

Court of Commissioners of Claims

E. Now James C. Wilson Commissioner of the Court of Claims. Austin Texas.

The application of G. H. Nelson would respectfully represent. That he served as a private in Capt N. M. Dawsons Company of volunteers on the Vasquez Campaign in the Spring of 1842. and that he served as a private in Capt Castlands Company on the Woul Campaign in the Fall of 1842. That he was enrolled in each of said Companies at the town of LaGrange in the County of Fayette State of Texas and that he served the whole term of said service until the said Companies were disbanded at the said town of LaGrange after their return. And that he has never received any remuneration for the same, either from the Republic or State of Texas. He therefore makes this application for the purpose of obtaining pay for the service as aforesaid. and in support of his claim, files the following interrogatories to be propounded to Major James S. Lisle and Peter P. Shaw, witnesses for the Plaintiff. and residents of Fayette County in the State of Texas.—

Inty 1st Are you acquainted with G. H. Nelson?

Inty 2d Do you know that he served as a private in Capt. N. M. Dawson's Company of Volunteers in the Spring of 1842. on the Vasquez Campaign, and in the Company of Capt Castland in the Fall of 1842. on the Woul Campaign?

Inty 3d When were said Companies organized and when disbanded?

Inty 4th Did the said Nelson serve through the whole of said Campaigns?