Hons. A. O. Allingworth, Com. of Claims, and
S. B. Shaw, Comptroller:

Gentlemen:

By a special act of the Legislature, passed at the second session thereof, a certain amount was admitted to be due Stewart Perry, for certain services rendered during your Revolution, and for the charter of a vessel used as a transport during the struggle. Said amount, however, has never been paid, and therefore yet remains due the undersigned assignee of Mr. Perry, and which he respectfully asks may now be included by you in your report of outstanding liabilities for payment by the next Legislature. It is but justice that this money should be paid. The undersigned paid a valuable consideration for it, upon the faith he had in the action of your legislature admitting the amount to be due. As he knows, however, that you understand the justness of his claim as well as he can tell or convince you of it, and as he believes you will do what you may ~~deem~~ right & consistent, with your duty as public officers, he leaves the matter in your hands without further argument or comment,

Respectfully

R. Plummer
