Your memorialist further represents that he does not come before the Honorable Legislature of the State of Texas in a spirit of exaltation — but humbly supplicating he appeals to their sense of justice. If the interest stipulated in the original contract should be considered at too high a rate for the exigency of the case presented and for the sacrifice made, he begs leave to present his claim for the legal rate of interest recognized by the laws of Texas or such other basis of adjustment and computation as this Honorable body may deem just and equitable in the premises.

Your memorialist further represents unto your Honors that his necessities are such as to require immediate relief, and he is disposed to cheerfully submit to whatever mode of relief they at present may be inclined to render to

Jacob Willeva