but the name being mostly used J. M. Arnett, may have led affiant into error, but he never knew of any other in the army of the same name, affiant for several years after 1837 knew said Arnett and had frequent correspondence with him relative to his land. He resided for some time in St Louis Mo. - affiant has not heard of or from him for several years past, until 1874 when he received a letter from him in California, from which letter affiant is satisfied both from the writing and signature as well as the circumstances related therein that said J. M. Arnett is now an applicant for a pension under the Revision act is the same and identical person who served with him as stated and affiant believes him to be entitled to the full benefits of the law -
