Antonio his + mark Coy.

Also personally appeared Marcos Guerrero and Antonio Larin, credible witnesses to me well known, who, upon being duly sworn according to law, declare that they are well acquainted with the applicant, Antonio Coy, and that they know he is the identical person he represents himself to be; that they know he belonged to the company of Luis Sanches, and that he was engaged in the battle with Indians, between the Neches and Trinity Rivers, but a few days after the battle of San Jacinto; that they know this because they belonged to the same company at the same time, and were in the engagement alluded to; and further deponents declare that they have no interest whatever in the prosecution of this claim.

Marcos his X mark, Guerrero.
