Volunteers, under President Samuel Houston; having Genl. Thomas J. Rusk, Secretary of War, of the Republic of Texas; with three companies he marched with his company afresaid to San Antonio to relieve Travis and Crockett; ~~meeting~~ the command rendezvoused at Guadalupe where President Houston joined the command, and retained as commander in chief to San Jacinto; that with his said command he participated in the Battle of San Jacinto; that affiants recollection is that the discharge given him should have been dated in the year 1836, after the middle of June; but that he, with a large portion of his company were retained as minute men, disbanded, but not finally discharged at that day; that after the battle of San Jacinto he