of the Texian troops was very incomplete, and that there was not such a thing as an enlisting list, every volunteer was to a great extent his own Master; but affiant attests that said Herrera was among the men who had placed themselfes under his Command, that he made like all the other in Camp service during the siege, and was an Active member of the Assaulting force at the taking of Bexar in 1835; — That after the retreat of the Mexican troops under Genl. Cos — said Herrera Continued in the volunteer service till the following month of February, at that time he was detached by Col Travis order, and despached to protect in their trip to Washington Col. Francs Ruiz and Jose Antno Navarro who had been elected as Delegate to the Convention; that Blas Herrera is the same and Identical person who rendered said Military Service and who now applys for a Military Pension to which he thinks himselfe justly entitled And that said Blas Herrera never served the Enemy — Juan N. Seguin
