in great suffering from the wound received at San Jacinto, and was confined at that place for fourteen days from the effects of said wound.

Affiant further states that after the battle of Sarantonio and before the battle of San Jacinto he was engaged in a skirmish with the Mexicans at Galeäd and also at a church, but affiant does not remember the name of the church or at what place it was.

That in 1841, affiant returned to the State of Tudeäu and there married. That affiant had with him papers showing that he had served as a soldier in Texas, but that in 1844, affiant had his house burned in Tudeäu and with it, all of his papers. That affiant returned to Texas in 1846, and have resided here in Tilles County Texas ever since.

Affiant further states that he does not now know of the whereabouts of any of his fellow soldiers by whom he can make
