although one "n" is omitted in spelling the name - a few names above on same page you will see the name "Kinnard, Marquis L." and a few names below the name of "Kennard, William" Now these three are brothers though the name is differently spelled in each instance. I also refer you to page 300. of Abstract of Valid Land Claims by Burlage & Hollingsworth - published in 1859 - opposite the No. 2126 on the left and 320 acres bounty land to the right stands the name Kinnard, Michael, which is the name of the Applicant properly spelled - and the land opposite in both the books referred to is the bounty granted him for his services in the Campaign of the Spring of 1836 during which the battle of San Jacinto was fought. On page 302 of Burlage & Hollingsworth's Abstract opposite the No. 2112 on the left and 320. bounty on the right you find the same name again
