a noise behind me, and I looked around and discovered the young man as before stated in the act of drowning in the very place, that I had cautioned [redacted] to guard against, and we all together immediately got him out of the water nearly drowned on the bank of the river - and placed him upon an old barrell and rolled him backwards and forwards until the water ran out of him and he came to [redacted]
That the said Marshall was present at the time this circumstance took place - and from this circumstance and others I know that he was in the war of 1846 -
He further states that the said Marshall was well known in the army at the time as little Joe Marshall - and that further - he has heard his name called time & again for three months at Roll Call in the army
That the said Joseph T. Marshall is the identical Man to whom I alluded in this affidavit -
