Sarah A. Walker
vs
The State of Texas

May 23, 1894.

On this day came on to be heard the application of Sarah A. Walker, surviving widow of Jacob Walker deceased, soldier of the Texan revolution for pension under act of the 15th Legislature of the State of Texas, entitled "an act to provide annual pensions for the surviving soldiers of the Texan revolution and the surviving signers of the declaration of Texan Independence, and the surviving widows of such soldiers and signers. Approved May 28, 1876." And said applicant appearing by her counsel Messrs. Clark & Dyer and the State of Texas coming and being represented by Felix Robertson Esq an attorney at law appointed by the Court to represent the State herein and parties announcing ready for trial, and it appearing to the Court that due and legal notice of such application had been made and posted according to law for the time prescribed by law and the Court after hearing the said application and the evidence in support of and contradictory to said application, is of the opinion that the facts and allegations of said application are true and that applicant is entitled to a pension and is accordingly entitled to a certificate of this Court to the truth of the facts averred in said application. It is therefore considered by
