while in Texas, that he, said Wilcox, was one of the Soldiers, who was in the actual military service of the State of Texas, in the war, which seperated Texas from Mexico, prior to October 15th 1836, as set forth in said Affidavit above set forth; and that said Wilcox was honorably discharged from said service, and that he returned to Natchez, Adams County, Mississippi, where he lived up to the time of his, said Wilcox', death; and such facts were always understood to so exist by all the acquaintancy generally, of said Wilcox, when in life, and even since his said death - and said affiant never heard any contradiction thereof from any one - And affiant knows, of his own individual knowledge acquired during said War by personally seeing said Wilcox in said Service of Texas, that said service was so performed by said Charles Wilcox -

Affiant further states, that said Charles Wilcox was, generally and without any exception, esteemed and considered as a gentleman of veracity in any Court of law, or Equity, or in any place, and the said Affiant, always, so regarded him - Affiant further states, that he has no interest, pecuniarily, financially, or otherwise, whatever, directly or indirectly, in the result of said claim of said widow, Agnes Wilcox, and that he is no relative or connection of the family, or said widow,