Before me Pierre Charles Cureللier a Commissioner of Deeds for the State of Texas, duly commissioned and sworn and qualified to administer Oaths and to take Affidavits, within the State of Louisiana for use or record in the said State of Texas, this day personally came and appeared:

Thomas Wharton Collens late Judge of the Seventh District Court for the Parish of Orleans, and Robert J. Ker, Notary Public and Attorney at Law both residents of this City and to me, the said Commissioner, well and personally known, as credible persons, who being by me duly sworn according to law did severally depose and say:

That they are well acquainted with Francis A. Foygnet, whose name is subscribed to the foregoing affidavit, and know him to be the identical person he represents himself to be in said affidavit; that the said Francis A. Foygnet is now about Sixty one years of age, and resides at present and has resided for many years in the City of New Orleans; and deponents verily believe that all the facts stated by said Francis A Foygnet in his said affidavit are true and that he is justly entitled to a pension for service under the pension act approved april 21st 1874; and to their knowledge the said Foygnet is in need of said pension to support himself and family.
