But if he has received it, it will Certainly place him in a very unpleasant position; for if such be true, that he has receive it previously to the application which I made for him, he has committed perjury; And if he has I shall put the law in force against him; for the affidavit which the law requires the applicant to make, I wrote for him and he signed it, before an officer, and it was authenticated and I sent it up, which I presume you receive it, and is filed with his papers; (you acknowledged sometime ago ~~[illegible]~~ receipt of some papers, in his case, but did not specify any particular ones; in your answer please specify particularly if that paper has been receive) As to the gentleman referred to in your letter acting as the attorney of Peerman there - I know nothing of - But this power of attorney, and the papers that I have sent up, will not allow any other person to act in this case, but myself until this which I have sent up, is revoked by Peerman, If it is the same person - I presume it is through the officiousness of this gentleman that he is acting; But if it is by the power and authority that has been delegated to him then he has ~~[illegible]~~ deceive us both - If this gentleman has a power of attorney from Peerman, let him show it to you
